MARION WINS FIRST GAME

Game Season...Defeats Slurgis by a Score of Four to Two...To Play Providence Soon.

Marion New Ball Park was formally open Tuesday last in a fine game with Slurgis, in which the Marion aggregation was victorious by a score of 4 to 2. Both teams played nicely, but the features of the day were the heavy hitting Guess who, out of 4 times up made 4 hits one of which was for an extra base, and the work of Gossage who only allowed the visitors two hits and struck out 16 of their men.

The game was as follows:

32 KILLED AND 52 INJURED

Tornado Wipes Out Town of Zephyr With a Frightful List of Casualties...Many May Die.

Brownwood, Texas, May 20.—A tornado of great fury struck the little village of Zephyr in the eastern portion of Brown county at one o'clock Sunday morning and left a path of death and destruction seldom paralleled. The death list has reached a total of thirty-two and the number of seriously and fatally wounded will reach fifty.

The storm formed half a mile south of Zephyr and swept down on the village, cutting a wide path through the residence and business district. Nearly fifty houses were demolished. Lightning struck a lumber yard and started a conflagration which destroyed one entire business block. No effort was made to fight the fire, as the care of the dead very soon demanded all attention.

A section hand rode a handcar to Brownwood and spread the alarm. In two hours the Santa Fe railroad was speeding a special to the scene of the storm with nine surgeons and a score of Brownwood citizens.

Hundreds of persons directly in the storm's path saved themselves by taking refuge in storm cellars. More than a dozen of the bodies were horribly mutilated. County Clerk Thad Cabilier and wife and children, who had gone to Zephyr to spend the night, were killed. The big stone school building and two churches were swept from the face of the earth. By daylight sixteen surgeons were working on the wounded.

Brownwood hurried her second relief train at noon today loaded with provisions, clothing and necessary articles, and forty nurses. Tonight three persons are still unaccounted for. Two children were found dead two miles from the town, having been blown that distance. A special train will leave Zephyr tonight for Temple carrying the more seriously injured to the hospital.

The storm was three hundred yards wide, and swept the earth for only a short distance, probably for less than a mile. The fury is considered the most terrific of any tornado ever experienced in this section. J. E. Clingman, E. E. Kirkpatrick and nine surgeons, who formed the first party out of Brownwood, found a desolate scene awaiting them. The hillsides, at Zephyr were covered with bodies of dead animals and human beings and debris. The ruins were dimly lighted by the burning buildings, and the cries of the wounded rose above the sound of the elements, which threatened a second storm.

A hog roaming through the debris-strewn streets was killed while attempting to devour the body of an infant. The bodies were found twisted about trees and in every conceivable shape.

Persons walked the streets almost naked crying for loved ones. Residences which escaped the awful storm were turned into hospitals.

A CALL.

Tolu, Ky., May 31, 1909.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins, Marion, Ky. Dear Sir:—I send you a call for our Crittenden county Union to meet at Marion, June 12th, 1909, at 10 o'clock a. m. Let every local send delegates. One for each 20 or majority fraction and one at large. Let credentials show number of members in good standing. Let each local report the amount of tobacco pooled and sending in the pooled and the amount not pooled in the bounds of their local-union and non-union.

Let each local make special effort for stock for the purpose of buying the tobacco factory at Marion and the amount of subscriptions be sent to me at Marion by mail or delegates.

Let every true union man in the county attend this meeting that can.

Yours truly,

ROBT. JOHNSON.

LOCKED HORNS IN SENATE

Bradley and Paynter Have Spirited Dispute Over Broom-Corn Duty. Refuses to Reconsider.

Washington, May 29.—In the Senate this afternoon Senators Bradley and Paynter locked horns over the duty on broom corn. It was lively while it lasted, but devoid of any bitterness. An amendment to the tariff had been brought in by Senator Aldrich, placing a duty of $3 a ton on broom corn. So suddenly was it adopted that only a few of the Senators knew that it had been sprung.

Senator Paynter asked for a reconsideration and produced a letter from Kentucky in which the claim was made that broom corn was controlled by the American Warehouse Company and that a tariff on it would greatly benefit the so-called trust. An objection to the reading of the letter was made by Mr. Aldrich, when Senator Bradley arose and said he had a number of letters from Kentucky asking for a duty on broom corn.

Senator Paynter demanded to know who the writers of the letters were. "I will say to my colleague that they are from producers of broom corn in Kentucky," answered Senator Bradley. The Senate refused to reconsider the vote on the item.

TOBACCO GROWERS, READ!

From the April number of "Tobacco," a trade journal published in London, England, I take the following excerpt. Let tobacco growers read and ponder. I am content to point out that English tobacco merchants are comforting themselves in the hope that the Associations will be disrupted, in the event English merchants feel confident present prices to producers will be lowered. And English tobacco merchants are clearly right in their deductions. Present prices, wholly inadequate from a producer's standpoint, will surely go lower if farmers cease to co-operate. Here is the clipping:

"One item of interest to manufacturers is that recently the Farmers' Association shows signs of weakening, or rather it is that the farmers are in open rebellion against the officials and their mismanagement, and in some instances have demanded the right to sell their tobacco loose in the open markets as of old; this may be taken as a very hopeful sign, as it will enable operators to secure tobaccos in smaller quantities than the pooling committee demanded. To save their face as far as possible, the officials of the Association have granted the farmers the permission demanded. The need to say such authority was not really necessary, as the farmers are so disgusted that they had decided to take the bull by the horns and look after their own interests. Great as the effect of this action must be eventually to this market, we are not yet out of the woods, as the high prices are still well maintained and no doubt will be secured for the balance of this crop, so that the benefit of the disruption of the Association can not be properly felt this season in so far as price is concerned, still to be able to buy tobacco in smaller lots suitable for special requirements is undoubtedly of material benefit to all interested on this side."

HOI FOR CRITTENDEN SPRINGS.

Next Wednesday night, June 9th, we will serve ice cream, straw berries, sherbet, cake and other dainties. A good band will be in attendance to make music for the dancers. Soft drinks will be served. Guess & Ordway Bros., livery will charge 50 cents for the round trip from Marion. Come and bring your best girl or some body else's, and enjoy the evening.

DEATH WIND IN OKLAHOMA

Fifteen or More Killed in Two Towns...At Least Forty Injured By Tornado.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 29.—Fifteen and perhaps thirty more persons were killed tonight in a tornado that devastated the Oklahoma towns of Key West and Depew. Forty or more are injured.

At least ten were killed in Key West. That figure is confirmed by a number of people who fled just before the storm. Five are dead at Depew. The tornado swept over a large stretch of farming country. Wires are down and many rumors of death and destruction at isolated points could not be confirmed to night.

Following the wind came a deluge of rain. Floods then added their terrors to the situation. The wreckage of Key West was soon swept away by the rising waters. Practically nothing was left of the town of two hundred inhabitants.

Among the injured is a young woman named Brace. She was in the post-office and the building was blown away. The residence of J. L. Hart was demolished after having been rolled over with the occupants inside. Mrs. Hart's back was broken; a little girl's limb was wrenched from her thigh, and Hart and two other children were injured. Depew was destroyed by a double twister that was formed from that striking Key West and traveled in a northeasterly direction and another coming from the East. The tornado wiped out Depew, then pushed northeast.

A JOLLY TIME.

The Marion party who took the excursion trip up the Cumberland river to Nashville, returned Saturday, after nearly a week of rest and pleasure, and report the time of their lives.

The excursion was made on the steamer Butterfield of the Tyner Line, and although the round trip from Dyersburg to Nashville, including meals, both in and out of port, cost only $4.00, they report good accommodations and say that Capt. Tyner and his men do their utmost to make their passengers have a jolly good time. Persons wishing a pleasure trip for a small outlay of money, could do no better than take a trip up the Cumberland and see some of Kentucky's prettiest scenery.

Those who composed this excursion party were Misses Nelle Clifton, Pearl Doss, Mary Coffield, Grace Moore, Delta Barnes, Margaret Moore, Lucile Nunn and Eva Clement; Mesdames W. O. Tucker, S. J. Tucker and James Henry. Messrs. W. O. Tucker, W. O. Tucker, Presley Guess and Guy Conyer.

Shaken by Quake.

Frank Harris came in from Illinois Thursday morning for a short visit to relatives.

He states that Illinois is pretty much excited over an earthquake shock Wednesday. The quake lasted several seconds. It interfered with telephoning, broke dishes, shook down plastering, and at Aurora upset a stove and caused a serious fire.—Henderson Gleaner.

Ran Down The James Boys.

Ex-Gov. T. T. Crittenden, a noted Missourian, died at his home in Kansas City Tuesday. On Thursday afternoon preceding he suffered a stroke of apoplexy and remained unconscious until he died.

Mr. Crittenden was 77 years of age. He was born in Shelby county, Kentucky, and received his education at Center College, Danville. Among his classmates were W. C. P. Breckinridge and John Young Brown. He went to Missouri before the Civil war and later formed a law partnership with Francis M. Cockrell, afterwards United States senator. In 1878 Mr. Crittenden became governor of Missouri and it was to him that Frank James, the noted outlaw, laid down his arms. He was consul general to Mexico under President Cleveland. T. T. Crittenden, Jr., is mayor of Kansas City, and it was to him that Frank James, the noted outlaw, laid down his arms. He was consul general to Mexico under President Cleveland. T. T. DECORATION DAY OBSERVED Directors for the Cemetery Association Elected.—Officers Elected Monday Afternoon.

Pursuant to notice, on Saturday morning, May 29th, a general Decoration Day was observed at the New Marion Cemetery, after which the election of Directors for the Cemetery Association was held. The following were elected for the year beginning June 1st, 1909:—H. V. Stone, C. E. Weldon, J. W. Blue and Levi Cook.

After the election, the crowd gathered, and prayer was offered by Rev. J. Adams, after which a few appropriate remarks were made by Dr. Johnson. J. W. Blue then announced the terms of care for lots for the year, insisting that every lot owner pay his part in helping care for the Cemetery.

Dr. T. A. Frazer suggested that, on next Decoration Day, we try to have a greater interest by all town people and make it a meeting in which everybody will take part, and see that every grave in the Cemetery be decorated.

On Monday afternoon, at the office of Blue & Nunn, the Directors held their meeting and elected the following officers for the year:—Dr. R. L. Moore, President; Gus Taylor, Vice-President; Cora P. Crider, Treasurer; and Nelle Walker, Secretary. Uncle Dock Green appointed as sexton.

This a work every citizen in Marion should take an interest in. The Cemetery belongs to Marion, and every cent that is paid in to the Cemetery funds goes right back on the grounds. Not a member of the Committee receives one cent for his work and time. There is no graft for any one connected therewith. It bespeaks your tender memory of your dead, to see your lot cared for and your assistance given to this work. If you have not contributed to this fund heretofore, attend to this at once. The Committee appreciates your help, and you but do your duty when you have contributed.

New $12,000 Church.

The Trustees of the M. E. Church South, of this city, have purchased the Garden lot in the rear of the Dr. Gilliam place, which faces the Graded School building on the south, on Carlisle Street 100 feet, and College Street on the West 65 feet, as the site for the new Methodist church which is to be built this summer at a cost of $12,000. We think they should not only be congratulated on the healthy condition of their organization, which justifies and encourages them to undertake so commendable an enterprise, but also on securing so fortunate a location, so near the centre of the town, which was especially desirable as the membership is widely scattered, from a residential standpoint. The lot is one block from the court house, and equi distant from Depot and Bellville streets, the two main east and west thoroughfares of the city, and compared with lots on adjacent corners the price was about $500.00 less and is in almost the exact center of the city.

Only Nineteen Cases of Such Liberality on Part of Stork.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 3.—"Is it a boy or a girl?" John Hale, of Collamer, asked the nurse.

"Four of them are boys and one is a girl," was the answer that made John Hale gasp.

The quintuplets were all perfectly formed and seemingly healthy. In the absence of sufficient natural nourishment, however, it became necessary to administer cow's milk, and three of them died as the result. The two survivors are doing "fine."

The Hales, instead of manifesting pride in the stork's prodigality, sought to keep it from the public, the nurse and all others concerned being "shooed" from the place. Mr. Hale is about twenty-eight years old and his wife is My Errors Doings at Midnight.

Thursday night about eight o'clock, news reached town that a squad of strange men from out in the country were coming to town, with a possible motive of avenging the death of Jim Puckett. Guards were at once put out over the city, at every point of entrance, and were well armed, it is said. A negro who was at the depot at night, stated to me that a party of about fifteen strange men arrived from the south on the one o'clock train this morning, and started on town. But were met by a man who was a stranger to the negro, and then turned back, going up the railroad to the Broadway crossing, then to the May pants Company clothing, where they remained a few moments. About that time a freight train going south came along, and the negro says the crowd boarded it and went south.

Very few people in town were aware of the guards and extra police protection — and still more.

Aren't You Glad You Live in Kentucky?

St. Paul, Minn., May 21. — More than a foot of snow fell Monday in the Rocky Mountains, and played havoc with train and telegraph service of the Kalispell, Mont., division of the Great Northern Railroad. The trains were stalled for several hours at certain points and snow plows had to be called into service to extricate them.

Trains on this road due in the Twin cities were from ten to fifteen hours late.

Winnipeg, Man., May 19. — The snow storm of the last two days in Southern Alberta promises to cause a severe loss. The calving and lambing season is on, and the cold weather means that a large percentage of the calves and lambs, as well as the weaker of the older cattle and sheep will die. The ranchers believe they will not save more than 25 per cent. of new horns.

LETTER FROM S. D. JACOBS

Toppenish, Wash., May 19, '09. — Dear ——: We are living in a fast age of the world, and especially in a fast country. Every one here is in a hurry, either after pleasure or wealth. Our ranch is on the main road leading through Yak ima Valley from east to west. Scores of people pass every day. Drivers go by in a sweeping trot or gallop.

Horsebackers are invariably in a lope or a run. Men and women ride alike, using two stirrups, and going in a gallop.

Automobiles whizz by every few minutes. The automobile trees from New York to Seattle will pass our place in a few days. This is to test the durability of the different makes of machines, and a prize of $1,000 is awarded the winner at the A. A. P. exposition.

The present is a great time to be in a city of great needs. Witness the construction of the Panama Canal, the draining of the Florida Everglades, and the reclamation of vast areas of worthless worthless lands through the agency of irrigation. All over the primitive regions of the South cotton is king, on the rich areas of the North, central states corn is king, but throughout the vast stretches of the country, a worthless land, the cotton is in a very real and positive sense water is king.

By people back there who do not understand irrigation, it is regarded as somewhat as a substitute for rain, but irrigation is more than a substitute, it is better than rain. The eastern rancher must not only see his crops die for want of rain, he must see them ruined by too much rain. We have no such trouble.

We know that during the growing season we will not be disturbed by rain and that our crops will receive just the amount of water needed to produce the best results. With rain it is a matter of chance. It may rain too much or not at all — seldom just right. With irrigation the amount of water can be gauged just right, turned off or on at will. We have so arranged our ranch that we can turn the water on or off almost like magic.

We have the water on five acres of land now tomorrow we will change it to five acres more and do the work in twenty minutes. It is done by placing a cork in the bloom opposite the row being wet and pulling out one opposite the one you want to irrigate.

As I said above, everything out here is just simply whizzing — everything except religion, which, I am sorry to say, is at a low ebb, but we are looking for better things. Our new church house is nearing completion, and it is right among the Kentuckians. — S. D. J.

Ocenit Power To LocateOH Wins Girl Fortune.

Galveston, Tex., May 21. — The amount of $150,000 to Miss Stella Joseph.

ine Feiler, of Harris county, has been brought to light, it is declared, that the young woman possesses some remarkable power by which she locates oil and mineral.

The $150,000 was paid by ten land owners upon whose property two productive wells were struck after Mr. Feiler had located oil not far from the Humble field.

Mrs. Feiler, it is said, has never located a field of over $200,000, and is erecting an orphan asylum in Beaufort with the money she received for locating oil and sulphur fields.

Tesla Says He Has New Power Secret.

New York, May 31. Following the organization of the Tesla company, with $1,000,000 capital stock, at Atlanta to export one of Nicola Tesla's inventions, Mr. Tesla announced the adoption of the device by the Alabama Consolidated Coal and Iron Company.

He has discovered a mechanical principle entirely new and of the greatest economic value. Mr. Tesla said, "This I shall not be in a position to make known the details and expect the principle to operate for six weeks. It is a principle which increases the size of the power, increasing power and increases in a new mechanical principle I have discovered is applicable to air, steam, gas or water power, and may be used on locomotives, automobiles or any form of power production. With it a locomotive as powerful as any now used would need to be less than half the size."

The Tesla Propulsion Company's directors include Mr. Tesla, Joseph Hoodley and Walter H. Knight of New York. Mr. Tesla states that machines of several types had been built and that successful demonstrations had been given with them to his associates in the new company, and to representatives of the Alabama company.

Show Me Thy Way.

Though the heart grows weary
And the way seem long,
Though the burden heavy
And things seem wrong
Still a voice within me
Ever seems to say:

"Show me Thy way, Lord—
Show me Thy way!"

All life's a struggle,
Lessons we must learn;
Something we must long for,
And the heart must yearn—
Listen to that voice within,
Which ever seems to say:

"Show me Thy way, Lord—
Show me Thy way!"

So, my Heavenly Father,
When 'tis time to rest,
When all trouble ceases,
And Thou think best,
May these words of comfort
On that final day
Come softly, sweetly—
"Lord, show me Thy way."

JUDGE THOS. J. NUNN WILL HAVE SMOOTH SAILING.

Prominent Democrats from the First Appellate district, say in reference to the report that Judge Thos. J. Nunn, is to have opposition for re-nomination that there is little likelihood of any fight on Judge Nunn, says the Louisville Times. A Democrat here to-day said there had been repeated declarations that certain Western Kentucky lawyers would announce against Judge Nunn. "I do not believe it," said he, "for the Democrats and the people of Judge Nunn's district are for him. By that I do not mean to speak disparagingly of any Democrat who might desire to succeed Judge Nunn, but simply to indicate the temper of the people. While in the circuit bench Judge Nunn made a reputation as one of the best jurists in the State. As an appellate Judge he has maintained and increased that distinction. My predictions are that the Judge will be re-nominated by the Democrats without opposition will have no opposition from the Republicans, as the Democratic nomination is equivalent to an election. This is what he deserves and the Democrats of Western Kentucky are not in the habit of turning their backs on honest, capable and good men."

Home-Coming Postponed—Rev. Biddle's Letter Explains Itself.

Madisonville, Ky., May 25, 1909.

Hon. J. S. G. Green, Senior Elder,

Marion, Ky.

Dear Bro. Green:—I am more sorry than I can express that I have found that it will be impossible for me to be present at our next regular meeting, 3rd Sunday, (June 20). I have been elected to preach the Baccalaureate sermon for Wayneburg college, and as I go to bring home my daughter who graduates from that institution, I shall necessarily be in Pennsylvania on the 20th. I would advise that you use the pulpits and the columns of the RECORD-PRESS to call in the Home-Coming for that day, and announce that it will take place one month later, 3rd Sunday in July which is the 18th. If it is possible do not have your Home-Coming rally until I can be with you; for very much wish to be present and to enjoy the feast with you.

Yours Very Sincerely,

A. C. BIDDLE.

In accordance with the above we are authorized to announce the "Home-Coming day," for July 18th, which is 3rd Sunday in July.

FIFTY PER CENT OF THE TOBACCO CROP.

The farmers all over the county have been busy in the past week and acres and acres of tobacco have been transplanted. There is an abundance of plants, and they are further advanced this season than was ever known in the month of May. In some districts it is estimated that two-thirds of the intended crop has been set out, and some think that this per cent, will hold good all over the county, but this is probably too high an estimate, and a more conservative one would be fifty per cent. The cut worms have begun to appear in great numbers, and the probabilities are that the crop will be damaged and will require a great deal of re-setting. The cool weather will enhance the danger of destruction by the worms, but should the weather turn off warm the work of the little pests will be slow, as they cannot stay at the surface when the ground is warm. These rainy, cool nights, however, are cut worm weather, and they are in their glory and will do great damage. It is to be hoped that the mercury will take a soar upwards and thus protect the early planting of the tobacco crop. The corn crop is not all planted and the weather is against it. That part of the crop that has been planted is not doing so well on account of the cool, wet weather.

Thank You, Will Attend If Possible.

Henderson, Ky., May 26th, 1909.

RECORD-PRESS, Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:—The publishers of the Second District will meet in Henderson, Saturday, June 5th, for the purpose of forming a league along the lines of that of the Eighth District.

Some of the papers of the First District have suggested that the doors be opened and a Western Kentucky League be formed, composed of the papers in the First and Second Districts, and to that end you are cordially invited to be present on that occasion to consider the formation of such a League. The meeting will be in the Council chamber Saturday afternoon and that night the members of the press will be tendered a banquet by the Commercial Club and business men of Henderson.

We shall be pleased to have you with us on that day whether you may become a member or not.

We trust you will consider this matter earnestly and advise me at your earliest convenience whether or not you expect to attend.

Yours Fraternally,
G. D. GIVENS,
Committee.

Wireless Wave to Sink Ship.

Toulon, June 1.—A workman in the arsenal of La Seyne named Nandin has made a remarkable discovery after ten years of investigation. Nandin has succeeded in directing the Hertzian wireless waves of the telegraphix in fixed channels.

He has found an apparatus which directs the waves and permits their being launched in any determined direction. All wireless stations lying in the direction selected will register the dispatches, but the stations scattered in the remaining quarters of the horizon will remain absolutely in ignorance of the communications. The apparatus is transportable and it is capable of functioning without electricity.

The experiments made in directing the currents to the offices on the Mediterranean were successful. Nandin will experiment in the near future with a mirror wave guide which will permit him to aim at a precise point the electric current "T" with great force and will permit him to cause the explosion of a powder magazine of an armored ship.

Five Children Burn In Central City.

Central City, Ky., June 3.—At the commencement exercises of Mrs. B. C. Boyd's Misses' class here tonight five children of the most prominent families in town were so badly burned they will die. During a fancy drill the whole stage of the Gish Opera House was occupied by fifty children. Sparklers used in the drill were set afire by a candle in the hand of each child.

Dorothy Clay dropped her candle. Then her dress ignited, and the flame quickly flashed to other children, and a panic ensued.

The children jumped off the stage six feet high into the audience. Louise Marshal, aged twelve, fairly bounded into the air, jumping many feet into the arms of her aunt. The panic among the children spread to the audience, the latter rushing to aid the children. The screams were heard for blocks.

The fatally burned are: Dorothy and Zelma Clay, aged eight and ten years, daughters of Albert Clay, foreman of the Central City foundry; Louise Marshall, niece of Mrs. William Heltsley, twelve years old; Nell McGahey, eight years old, youngest child of F. C. McGahey, manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Company; Rena May Miller, six years old, daughter of W. E. Miller, merchant and banker.

The children were literally cooked. Mrs. B. C. Boyd's hair was burned off her head, and the skin of her hands, in her effort to save the children. Other children were burned, but none of the others will die. The town is in a panic from excitement.

Adjournment of Southern Presbyterians.

Savannah, Ga., May 29.—The general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian church adjourned last night. The Kentucky Synod and Central university tangle having its lingo in the final resolutions. These declare the hope that the university may continue to prove a blessing to the church and recognize that the administration of the affairs of the university has passed out of the hands of the synod forever.

Enters a Plea Of Guilty.

Cadiz, Ky., June 1.—James Bruce, a young man of near Central Furnace, in the western part of this county, who was indicted at the last September term of the Trigg county circuit court for shooting and wounding Walter Goodwin near Central Furnace last summer, entered a plea of guilty in the circuit court here and was given a sentence of one year in the penitentiary.

His first trial in February resulted in a hung jury, ten for acquittal and two for conviction.

Nearly One Thousand Hogsheads Sold In One Day.

Paducah, Ky., June 2.—Here is great rejoicing all over the Dark Patch on account of the great demand for Association tobacco. Nearly one thousand hogsheads of leaf were sold here in one day this week at from $7 to $11. Reports have just come in from all over the Dark Patch to the effect that between 7,000 and 10,000 hogsheads of Association tobacco have been sold within the past forty-eight hours.

The demand is now much greater for Association tobacco than ever before. The manufacturers of tobacco in the foreign markets are now just beginning to realize the advantage of buying tobacco put up by the Association. The farmers are indeed lucky who have remained true to the Association and now have their tobacco in it. The farmers have lost millions of dollars by selling their crops this year out of the Association.

Cumberland Presbyterians Will Not Vote For Whiskey hen

Bentonville, Ark., June 1.—Not only did the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church declared its adherence to the principles of prohibition today, but went a step further, adopting resolutions declaring that "no person or set of men who favor the license or sale of liquor has the right to explain or receive the votes of Christian men and any candidate for office, who declines to speak openly against the traffic deserves not, and should not receive our support."

"We have not the control of men's mouths, nor can we hope to gain that control, but by our prayerful united efforts it is possible and probable that we can control this traffic before it reaches the mouths of our future and many of our present generation."

The adoption of these resolutions came after the original draft, which proposed that "no party" which favored the licensing of the liquor traffic should be supported, was amended to read as quoted.

Rattler Hidden In a "Rat".

Mason Valley, Nev., June 3.—The seven-year-old child of Andrew Ingman is critically ill from the bite of a small rattlesnake, which had concealed itself in a "rat" occasionally worn by an older sister of the child. The snake had entered the house and crawled into the "rat," which was lying on the floor of a closet. The child picked the "rat" up and was struck on the wrist by the rattler.

The family dog attacked the snake, which had fallen to the floor and fatally bitten.

Rare Garden in California.

H. E. Huntington, who is building a country mansion on the old Short ranch eleven miles northeast of Los Angeles, is ransacking the earth for rare trees and shrubs to grace his beautiful grounds of 400 acres. Already the landscape admirably balances with hill and dale, plain, plateau and deep canyons on the edge of the San Gabriel valley, containing the largest collection of old oaks in the South, and to these the trolley magnate has added $20,000 worth of plants from many lands, while expending $100,000 on the grounds, upon which forty gardeners have been at work for two years.

Every week shipments of trees and shrubs from Asia, Africa and South America arrive. Huntington has just bought $6,000 worth of trees in Ceylon and Japan. Included in these are five palms, which cost $200 to $350 each. Ferns from Australia and New Zealand are also coming to be added to an already great collection.—San Francisco Chronicle.

HOGWALLOW HAPPENINGS

Fit Smith has a stone bruise on his trigger finger.

It doesn't take a very broad pulpit for narrow preachers.

Ellick Hellwanger complains that his hat is too large since he got his hair cut.

Some people feel so important that now and then they look back to see if they have left an impression in the atmosphere.

During a hard rain it looks like it never will be dusty any more.

Yam Sims has purchased a celluloid collar so that he can go out in the rain without getting wet.

The post office will be closed tomorrow all day on account of the death of the postmaster's cow.

The mail carrier has sent word ahead that he will be in next week. He has several long letters and has to travel very slow.

Sim Flinders returned from Ticktown Saturday evening, where he got a shave. His injuries are being dressed by Dock Hocks.

Those in favor of an early spring will please meet at the post office at 7 o'clock to-night.

The Deputy Constable has returned from Rye Straw, where he attempted to arrest Raz Barlow and others. They escaped, however, but the deputy will get him while he is singing at the Dog Hill church next Sunday.

The Dog Ford preacher will begin a protracted meeting next week.

Bought Valuable Property.

J. A. Stegar has purchased the McNary property in this city. This is a very beautiful, as well as valuable property. The property includes the house on McNary avenue and all the land belonging to this estate. Mr. Stegar was fortunate in securing this land as it is a bargain for any one. We understand the property brought a handsome price.—Caldwell Co., News.

Thirty-Five Thousand Dollar Factory.

Providence, Ky., June 1.—At last a site has been selected for the big $35,000 factory that the Imperial Tobacco Company will build here this summer.

The factory will be located on what was formerly the brick yard of Payne & Beeson adjoining the Montgomery heirs' addition, and back of the McKinstry old homestead. The lot, which contains about four acres, was transferred to the Imperial Company by T. B. Payne in consideration of $1,000.

It is a splendid location and can be made easily accessible to the farmers in delivering their tobacco. The grounds will be graded down at once and work will be started on the construction of the house just as soon as possible.

Mrs Frances Gray left Tuesday for St. Louis for a week's visit.

Resolutions of Respect to J. F. Flanary.

The all devouring scythe of time has again invaded our ranks, and the Grand Architect of the universe has called from labor to refreshments our beloved brother to that Grand Lodge on high where the noon-tide of bliss will eternally shine and the adoration of the twelfth hour will be everlasting joy.

With no capital but the sinew of his muscles, no Monitor but the council of his brain, no credentials but the littleness of his character, he began life's career. Being left without a father in boyhood days, with mother, brothers and sisters to care for, he struggled hard to perform those duties, which he admirably did—never shrinking but honestly and cheerfully pressing onward.

Bro. Flanary was initiated in Hurricane Lodge No. 571, Sept. 2nd, 1893, Passed, Oct. 28th, 1893, Raised, Dec. 23rd, 1893, where he remained a faithful member until the last design upon the trestle board was drawn, and the working tools were laid aside May 18, 1909.

Therefore be it resolved:—That in his death the Masonic fraternity has lost a faithful and worthy brother, the community a useful citizen, the county an efficient officer, his mother a dutiful son, his brothers and sisters a brother indeed and his wife a true and devoted husband.

Resolved further:—That we deeply sympathize with his family and friends in this dark hour; yet let us look to him from whom all comforts flow and regulate our lives by the "Plum line" of Justice. Squaring our actions by the "Square of Virtue" that when the Grand Warden of heaven calls us, we too, may be found ready.

It is further resolved:—That the charter of this lodge be draped and the brethren wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the widow, a copy to the Record-Press for publication and a copy spread upon the record of this lodge.

Marion Boy Wins Honors in Texas.

George G. Ordway, of Amarillo, Tex., formerly of Clarendon, Tex., a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ordway, of this city, won the medal in oratorical contest at the commencement exercises last Friday at Clarendon college.

George is one of our boys and we are glad indeed to note his success in the "Lone Star" state, where he is working his way up unaided. The self made boys are the only hope of the nation.

The ladies of the Physical Culture Club entertained in honor of the Athletic Club and the Y. M. C. A. Monday night at club rooms in the Press building, in token of their thanks for the proffer of the club's rooms for the use of the Physical Culture Club one evening in each week. Almost the full membership of each of the clubs was present, making about 60, to whom ices, berries and cake were served in an appetizing manner by the ladies.

The club rooms were decorated and presented a cheerful appearance, with rugs here and there, bouquets of flowers everywhere, brilliant lights, and handsome marions and pretty girls to serve the refreshments, which were the handiwork of the ladies themselves and were of the most delicious quality. An address was delivered by Rev. T. C. Johnson and talks on Y. M. C. A. and athletic subjects were made by Mayor Blue and Hon. C. S. Nunn.

CHAPTER XX.

In Which the Yacht Meets Disaster.

I have been endeavoring to recall in sequence the occurrences of the three days and nights following our turning northward, but it is all chaos vague confusion. An expanse of sleepless hours, racing seas, snow, sleet, and ice, in the midst of which we battled for life in as desperately terrible a fight as men ever waged against nature. I can see and feel it all clearly enough, yet the incidents are so mingled that the separate days and nights appear one continuous event, without beginning or end. I hear the ceaseless howl of the wind, the growl of grinding ice, the smiting of tons of water, the crashing of loosened canvas, the rattle of blocks about, the thousand niggles emitted by the straining cables, and then I see the swirl of snow, the crested seas, boiling in madness, the gleam of pursuing ice-fields; the towering pinnacles of giant bergs overhanging our marshy decks, the flying clouds, and the settling down about us of the ghostly frost fog. I feel the wild plunge down into the hollow; the sickening, staggering effort to climb up; the dizzy balancing upon the crest, and that awful drop again into the hell below!

No man on board will ever know how we made it; how we ever found passage through those wind-lashed channels; how we ever kept upright under the pounding of that sea; how the Sea Queen ever shook her trembling decks free from the tons of ice and water, and rose staggering to the crest. Once our engines broke, and for two hours we rolled helplessly, while McKnight and the Chilean tinkered at the damaged machinery, and the great waves buried us, and smashed the charthouse into fragments. Once the rudder-chains became fouled with ice, and we swung into the trough of the sea buried over until our lower yards trailed in the water and half the yacht shivered beneath the smother, we hanging on for our lives, drenched and buffeted by the waves. The jib-boom snapped like a pipestem, and a huge, ugly hole was ripped out of the forward bulwarks. Up to the neck in icy water we chopped away the raffle, and flung it overboard. Gustafson, shrieking wildly for help, went with the litter, while his mates bore Symes below groaning from a broken leg.

Merciful heavens, how that ice came down, pursuing us like the very Fiend! Once it pressed so closely against our quarter that the sea, rebounding from off its front, boomed us, sweeping aft in a vast wall. It caught Dade opening the companion door, hurled him smothering backward and flooded the cabin a foot deep in icy water. Yet we held to it, our eyes aching, our limbs frozen, our oskisks stiff with ice, the exposed flesh of our faces one festering frostbite, bruised by the shocks, half dead from fatigue, dizzy from the battle. But it was no seamanship which saved us; it was a merciful Providence, for at times the smother was so thick we ran into it blindly, not daring to broach to with all that ice after us, driven by the wind, and not knowing what was ten yards ahead, or ten yards behind.

During all that time I scarcely left the deck, although De Nova served his watch on the bridge in the flying spray. Dade fed me as best he could, and what brief snatches of sleep I caught were on the divan in the cabin, my icy clothes drying on my body. I saw nothing of the women; there was no time, no opportunity. I doubt if either could have kept upright amid the awful pitching of the yacht, for I was obliged myself to creep from one hand-grasp to another. So I saw nothing of the ladies, but Dade succeeded in taking them food—endevor, for the galley was wave-lashed, the cook driven below—although how the lad ever managed it is a mystery, and he reported that Celeste clung to her bulk, sick and frightened, but that Lady Darlington was about and dressed whenever he went in.

Some time during the third day the wind had blown itself out, or else we had been driven beyond the sweep of it. Anyhow, it died down into sullen blowing for so dense that a human form was indistinguishable five feet away. Fortunately but little wind now, and the sea had gone down; I could distinguish De Nova's voice as he sang out a psalm under his hollowed hands and hoars. A dim sound came over the roll-horn and peered influence, only zar be hell forward, an' an' ze ship up on end!"

"Is that all you can tell? Is there any one else here able to explain?"

Well, said a deep rumbling voice forward. I was just out of the northland when the rumpus happened, hangin' on to a lifeline. I got to a bunch, but I figger it out like this. We hit a blizzard blowin' a lot of ice caved off on us an' stranded in the tor'd deck like it was paper crumblin' down everything as flat as the anther room. Both hands blow up an' they makin' hold the stern in the air but the after deck had. When that finally gave way the "Looker" dropped to Davy Jones. There wasn't a man dead in the hatch that had a chance even to catch it."

"Hold my breath. Come on, then!"

"I am ready to come on board," I said at last.

"I am comin' at the bow," he said. "It was the very last chance I had to get ashore."

"I am comin' at the bow."
